

University Libraries Fall Newsletter

Photo Courtesy of the Shimazu Family

Historical Missions of Americans of Japanese Ancestry: An Imago Dei Collection, Museum & Research Center in Marshburn Library

My name is Josiah, and I am blessed to be the first student in the new University Libraries Internship Program. I am interning for Evelyn Shimazu Yee, Librarian & Curator of the first Imago Dei Collection, Museum & Research Center. Our work is to create an exhibit with materials from the Historical Missions of Americans of Japanese Ancestry Collection to be displayed in Marshburn Library

Josiah Bloomberg talks about his experience with the new University Libraries Internship Program

Events & Things

You Should Know:

The Reformation Exhibit: 500 Years of History

Vist the exhibit in Darling Library to learn about the global impact the Reformation has made. Click here to read more.

This image under public domain.

during the month of February 2018. I am currently a Senior expecting to graduate in May 2018 with a double major in English (Writing) and Honors (Humanities).

What initially drew me to the project was the importance of documenting these historical missions. I am a missionary kid from Hanoi, Vietnam, and my curiosity turned into a desire to be part of creating this exhibit after I had a conversation with the curator of this collection, Evelyn Yee. When she told me the story and vision of the exhibit, I realized that I wanted to be a part of creating spaces where untold people's voices and stories could be heard. This Internship and the work of creating this exhibit is a new avenue to accomplish this goal.

The Historic Missions of Americans of Japanese Ancestry Collection is what we refer to as an, "Imago Dei" collection. Because the very essence of God embodies diversity, then all God's children reflect the Kingdom of God. Thus, telling the stories of the trials of American Ancestry during World War II and the trials of the Christian Faith is an act of Imago Dei. In doing this, we honor the Nisei Americans whose parents immigrated from Japan and the Christian ministers whose stories have seldom been heard.

Click here to read more.

Difference Makers Project Needs You!

All students are invited to apply to the Difference Makers Project, a communal art project that seeks to actively integrate faith and art, embedding stories of people who are Difference Makers for Christ as an inspiration to grow one's faith. Participants are eligible for up to $500 in scholarships. Scholarships are limited, so apply for free today by visiting Marshburn or Darling Library, by email or contact Jennifer Blair, jblair@apu.edu for more information. Check out the flyer and application. Or click here to share or nominate a story. This project is made possible by a Faith Integration Project Grant.

World War I Poster Exhibit

This year marks the centennial of U.S. entrance into World War I. Visit Marshburn Library to learn more about the events that led to American involvement and its global impact. Check out the flyer here.

New Databases!

APU subscribes to well over 100 library information systems and databases. These provide access to e-books, magazines, journals, newspapers, and other information sources.

If you are interested in learning more, please visit the library or talk to a librarian. Check out these new additions and view all databases here.

Comprehensive Nurse Package (FITNE):

Virtual Learning Resource Center (VLRC) offers an array of online multimedia nursing resources for use in e-learning courses, as well as

---

---

Video Recording Studio

A Joint Project with University Libraries,
IMT, and CTLA/ITT

Have you ever wanted to record a lecture or provide video feedback or messages to your students? With the self-service Video Recording Studio, you can record videos along with lecture materials without any previous video editing experience. The Video Recording Studio, also known as the "One Button" studio, is a self-service facility in Marshburn Library, Room 125, that allows you to record high-quality videos in an easy-to-use format.

For more information about how to get started, including reserving the studio, please click here or watch the video here or click below. To reserve the studio (24 hour advance), please visit 25 Live and search for Video Recording Studio. If you have further questions, please contact ITT at ittsupport@apu.edu.

Click on the video to learn more!

supplements for traditional courses, including short documentary videos.

Kanopy: A video streaming solution for libraries offering a "Netflix-like" user experience and a broad selection of over 30,000 documentaries, feature films, and educational videos from thousands of producers.

KCI Korean Journal Database:

As part of Web of Science, this database provides access to articles from multidisciplinary journals. To access, click on the link above and select KCI from the Select a Database drop-down menu.

Past Masters:

Searchable full text collections of writings by major philosophers and theologians.

Sage Research Methods:

The ultimate methods library with more than 1,000 books, reference works, journal articles, and instructional videos by world-leading academics from across the social sciences.

---

---

Meet the Faculty & Staff

Hugh and Hazel Darling Library

Visit the Darling Library and explore the education, computer science, nursing, and psychology collections. Check out the Ahmanson Technology Center which houses 75 computer workstations, open study space, study rooms, and Special Collections.

Dave Harmeyer, EdD, MLS, MA

Dave Harmeyer, Dave, Associate Dean and Professor focuses on research in information literacy, publications, and teaching in the online library programs. Read more about Dave here.

Meet your 2017/18 Library Faculty and Staff

Pat Fabio

Pat is an Administrative Assistant in the Dean's Office in Darling Library. She has extensive government administrative experience and is always friendly. If you ever get a chance to visit the Dean's office, say hi.

jblair@apu.edu

apu.edu/library

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

626-815-3847 | www.apu.edu/library